8 March 2021

Sonia Martínez Montalbán. Student.

It was on 8 March, when some children in the first year of primary school were teaching English in school in France and suddenly the teacher disappeared. The teacher has come a week ago, so she had been teaching only the previous few days. The previous days the children didn't feel comfortable with them because they saw something strange in her.

She was the English teacher.

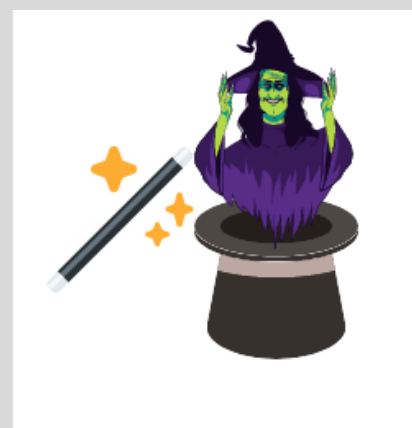

It was the objects that she used to make the trick.

The children thought that with this teacher it was not going to go well.

She was not very good they thought, she has been shrieking at them since she came and the children were frightened. She seemed to be magic and have powers. Every day, she would do a magic trick for them. That day at 10:00 in the morning, the children were learning the verb to be, and while the teacher was explaining, the children were listening to her. Suddenly, she was starting to jump, she was very nervous and nobody knew what was going on.

When she sent her the tasks to do like every day, she started to say a magic trick. She said: "Today we are going to become a witch". The children were shocked because he suddenly disappeared. One of them said: "What happened? We'll have to tell the teachers to find out what's going on". He went to tell the other teachers. When the teachers came, they were looking in other classes to see if she was there and also calling her.

She was making the trick when she dissappeared.

One of them thought: "It's better if we call the police". When the police came, they started investigating. And they closed the school. At 12:00 the next day, the police confirmed that she had disappeared and that this teacher must have magical powers.

In the photo, the police was coming.
